

HUMANITARIAN ENGINEERING GUEST LECTURE SERIES SPRING 2013 PRESENTS

The Toughest Job You'll Ever Love

By Matt Hogue

Serving in the Peace Corps is great way to immerse yourself in a new culture, learn a new language, and have the experience of a lifetime helping others. Have you ever wondered:

- What exactly do Peace Corps Volunteers do?
- Where do they go?
- Can you pick your country of assignment?
- How long do volunteers serve?
- Can student loans be deferred -- or even forgiven -- while you serve in the Peace Corps?

Join Peace Corps recruiter and returned volunteer Matt Hogue at this information session to hear about the volunteer experience and have your questions answered

WITH DISCUSSION PANEL:
RETURNED PEACE
CORPS VOLUNTEERS
(RPCVS), MINES SWE
AND CIVIL ENGINEERING ALUM
- SUSAN RAINEY
('99)

WEDNESDAY
FEBRUARY 27TH
4-5 PM
HILL HALL 202
LIGHT REFRESHMENTS AVAILABLE

ABOUT MATT

Matt Hogue started with the Peace Corps in September 2006 and became the Regional Recruiter in December of that same year. He currently is a Field Based recruiter covering northern Colorado and Wyoming. Hogue served as a Peace Corps volunteer in Thailand from 2003 to 2005. One of his experiences he shared was when he was living in Thailand, six months into the program he felt that he was not doing enough on his project and essentially wanted to hit the ground running. Teachers were brought into the village where he was assigned. His supervisor started rattling off things that he had done for the community thus making him realize the amount of effort he was doing in Thailand for this village. From <http://www.icosaco>

Still asking what you can do for your country?

There's another place where you can share your wealth of experience.

Life is calling.
How far will you go?

800.424.8580
www.peacecorps.gov

COSPONSORED BY ENGINEERS WITHOUT BORDERS